

clipfitter

Disclaimer

ClipFitter is a livestock management tool designed for the bloodless castration and tail docking of lambs using compression clips. Its use is permitted under UK law, subject to strict age and welfare regulations, which may vary between England, Scotland, Wales, and Northern Ireland.

Welfare warning: Use of ClipFitter beyond the recommended age or weight limit may result in animal suffering and is not advised. Correct positioning of the clip is essential to ensure a humane outcome and to avoid injury or distress. As with any invasive husbandry procedure, improper application can cause serious welfare issues.

ClipFitter is intended for use by competent persons trained in lamb handling and familiar with relevant legislation and best practice. This product is not a toy, not a medical device, and is not formally certified, but is compliant with lawful castration and docking methods in the UK.

Available in both traditional plastic and plant-based bioplastic, ClipFitter performs reliably under normal handling conditions, though slight variations in performance characteristics may occur.

The manufacturer accepts no liability for misuse, incorrect application, or use outside of the recommended age, weight, or legal context. Users are solely responsible for ensuring ClipFitter is used safely, lawfully, and appropriately. If in doubt, consult a veterinarian or qualified agricultural adviser.

Eadie Bros & Co Ltd, Selkirk